Thus, its use is regulated by article 5.3 Directive 2002/58/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 12 July 2002 concerning the processing of personal data and the protection of privacy in the electronic communications sector ("ePrivacy Directive"). In this sense, the Services, which are related to online ad fraud prevention, are deemed strictly necessary to provide a service. Therefore, consent of the Customer website users is not required to use such technology. Additionally, although OPTICKS does not need to identify such users to perform the Services, the above-mentioned type of data is deemed personal according to article 4 GDPR. This DPA set out the terms and conditions of such personal data processing according to article 28 GDPR. 3. Term

- 3.1. This DPA is fully effective and valid from the moment the Terms and Conditions are signed by the Parties and will expire the moment that the Processor ceases to process personal data on behalf of the Controller. Furthermore, where applicable, these DPA shall apply retroactively from the effective date on which the Processor processed personal data on behalf of the controller.

4. Obligations of the Parties

- 4.1. The Parties will comply, at all times, with the provisions of the GDPR, as well as with any other data protection applicable laws.
- 4.2. In addition, Processor undertakes to:
 - a) use the personal data, or data that may be collected on behalf of the Controller, for the objectives outlined in these DPA only, and may not under any circumstances use said personal data for their own and / or different purposes;
 - b) only process personal data following documented instructions from the Controller and, where any instruction does not comply with the GDPR, to immediately inform the Controller so that the Controller may take any measures it deems appropriate;
 - c) if applicable, keep, where appropriate, a documented record of all categories of processing activities carried out on behalf of the Controller within the framework of this DPA;

- f) adopt all appropriate technical and organisational measures in order to ensure a level of security appropriate to the risks to which personal data may be subjected, in accordance with the provisions of Article 32 GDPR, and in particular but not limited to, the following measures:
- measures pseudonymization and encryption of personal data;
 - measures with the ability to restore the availability and access to personal data in a timely manner in the event of a physical or technical incident;

- j) at the choice of the Controller, to delete or return all personal data after the end of the provision of Services and delete existing copies, unless Union or Member State law requires the storage of the personal data;
- k) make available to the Controller all the information necessary to demonstrate compliance with the obligations laid down in this DPA, as well as to allow for and contribute to audits, including inspections, conducted by the Controller, this all being subject to the signing of the corresponding confidentiality agreement. The Processor will also immediately inform the Controller if, in its opinion, an instruction regarding the right to audit violates the provisions of the GDPR, or any applicable Spanish regulations;

In such exceptional case, the Processor shall immediately inform the Controller of that legal requirement before making such transfer, unless this is not allowed for important reasons of public interest. Notwithstanding the above, Processor may use global IT standardized providers located outside the EEA for the normal operation of the Processor. For the sake of clarity, the Processor confirms that the servers used to perform the Services are located in the EEA.

6. Subcontracting

- 6.1. The subcontracting of all or part of the services entrusted to the Processor is prohibited unless the Controller has granted its prior and written authorisation, without prejudice to the subcontracting of auxiliary and standardised services for the normal operation of the Processor services, such as global IT standardized providers.
- 6.2. If a subcontracting is performed under the authorization of the Controller, the subcontractor shall also be deemed data processor under the same terms as the Processor in this DPA. In this sense, the Processor undertakes to execute a confidentiality agreement and a data processing agreement with the subcontracted third party, by which the subcontractor is obliged to comply with the obligations of this DPA, as data processor, as well as to follow the Controller's instructions regarding the processing of personal data.
- 6.3. In any case, the Processor shall be liable against the Controller for the actions and omissions of the subcontractor regarding data protection regulations compliance, except regarding global IT standardized providers since their performance exceeds Processor's reasonable control. Once said agreement has been executed with the subcontractor, the Processor is obliged to provide the Controller, at the request of the latter, a copy of it in order to prove compliance with the provisions herein.

- 6.4. For the purposes of the subcontracting authorization referred to in clause 6.1 above, the Controller authorizes the subcontracting by the Processor of the third parties and services specified below:

- 7.2. The Processor represents and guarantees to the Controller that it possesses the requisite specialised knowledge, reliable character and resources to implement technical and organisational measures that meet the requirements of the GDPR, including the security of processing, all being necessary to comply with the obligations of this DPA in relation to personal data.

Essential communications (such as security alerts or critical account notices) cannot be opted out of, as they are required to provide the service safely and properly.
- 8.5. Your email address and communication preferences will be handled in accordance with our Privacy Policy and applicable data protection laws, including GDPR where relevant.

9. Liability

- 9.1. Each of the Parties empowers the other Party to pass on any costs –including all kinds of compensation, sanctions and expenses, derived from the claims of the persons concerned– whether due to negligence and/or lack of confidentiality, improper use and/or processing of the personal data and expressly including any amounts derived from the sanctions the corresponding competent authority (for example, the Spanish Data Protection Agency), may eventually impose for a breach or lack of compliance with the applicable regulations, provided that such costs are a consequence of a breach attributable to the other Party. Furthermore, each of the Parties shall communicate to the other Party any claims that it receives in this regard, so that the latter may obtain legal representation at its own expense. The Party to which the non-compliance is attributable is required to act at all times in coordination with the other Party and to preserve the image of the latter.
